Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Wright, who have been spending some time in this vicinity, have gone to Waltham, where he has a position with the Waltham Watch Company. Mrs. Wright will return to St. Johnsbury for the fall mill-nery season as trimmer for Miss L. M. Morse.

Dr. John A. Drouin is temporarily practicing his profession in Brattleboro, where he relieves Dr. E. R. Lynch of his arduous duties. Dr. Lynch is obliged to go to one of the Boston hospitals where he is to receive treatment for appendicitis.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Banahan will sympathize with them over the death of their four months' old daughter, Mary Margaret, which occurred Wednesday evening. The funeral was held Friday morning at St. Aloysius church.

Mrs. F. J. Torrant, who has been sick at St. Johnsbury Hospital for about nine weeks, left the hospital Wednesday and went to her home in Glover, Saturday, for a few weeks' stay. Mr. Torrant accompanied her, and her sister, Miss Julia Sherburne, returned with him Monday and spent the day here.

Miss Anna O. Maloney will close her store Saturday and go to her home in Newport for a few days. She will spend the month of September in New York buying goods and will reopen the store about October 1. Her cousins, Mrs. Charles Phillips and daughter, Lena, of Boston, who have been her guests here will accompany her to Newport.

Dr. H. L. Newell, who will be remembered as a young physician who practiced here about 14 years ago, and then located in Proctor and later in Rutland, has sold his property in that city and will move to East Randolph soon after September 1. The change is made because one of his children suffers from asthma in Rutland and finds relief on the east side of the mountain.

J. W. Sault, Mrs. W. H. Robie and Miss Robie were at Montgomery Sunday where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. F. E. Wilbur, whose illness was mentioned last week and who died Saturday morning as the result of a shock of a few weeks previous. She is pleasantly remembered in this town where she made many friends during the few years in which her home was here.

A party consisting of Miss Alice L. Ricker, Raymond A. Pearl and Robert P. Clark, of St. Johnsbury, Miss Alice M. Sherman, Miss Ruth D. Lane and Frank Sherman, of Newport, Misses Gwendolyn and Rosalind Foulkes of Malden, Mass., Miss Nellie Vincent of Buffalo and Miss Mable Gray of Brooklyn, with Mrs. Seymour Lane as chaperone, are in camp at Lindsay's beach, Lake Memphremagog, this week.

Lieut. W. M. Lynch of the Boston fire department, with Mrs. Lynch and their three children are visiting his brother and sister, Rev. J. A. Lynch and Mrs. Charles A. McGovern. Lieut. Lynch, who has been a member of the Boston department for 20 years, began his fire fighting career with Island Hose Co., and was a member of that company's famous running team which won prizes in many contests throughout northern Vermont.

Amusements at Howe Opera House.

The theatrical season of 1902-3 at the Howe Opera House opens this evening, with a return engagement of "Pauline," the great mind reader and hypnotist. The engagement will continue all the week with an entire change of bill each evening. The Opera House Orchestra will be in attendance.

Manager Chapman has booked the best attractions that have ever appeared in the state, and will present at least one each week until Christmas. During the past week these two good attractions have been booked: Oct. 14th, "The Two Sisters," companion piece to "The Old Homestead" and for Nov. 11th, "Florodora," which will be presented by a company of 60 people, a complete orchestra, and elaborate scenery, the company making their tour by special train.

The Colonial Moving Picture Company of Boston will make their first appearance in St. Johnsbury at Howe Opera House Wednesday evening, August 27, and as this is one of the largest and best moving picture companies traveling their entertainment will be a great treat. There will also be unique high-class specialty acts which are of a character not usually seen outside large cities. Reserved seats for this attraction will be on sale at Gordon's and Bingham's on and after Monday evening, August 25th.

William A. Brady's special production of "Way Down East" is listed as the attraction Friday evening, Sept. 5th. The success attending this remarkable play is all the praise necessary, but the management of the Opera House deserve much credit for securing the popular production.

In the engagement of Miss Mildred Holland and her excellent company in "The Power Behind the Throne," a genuine dramatic treat is promised theatre-goers. It is not the policy of the present management to endorse any actor or actress unless it knows whereof it speaks; but from the reports of the almost triumphal tour of Miss Holland last year, and the evidence furnished by managers throughout the country, the management of the Howe Opera House is justified in recommending Miss Holland to its theatre-goers. The indications are that every seat in the house will be occupied for the engagement of Miss Holland on Thursday evening, September 11th.

Company D not There.

The Montpelier Journal of last Wednesday says: "The hoodlumism of members of the Bradford and St. Johnsbury companies upon their arrival at the Central Vermont station in that city was a disgrace to the uniform they wore."

We agree that hoodlumism disgraces a soldier's uniform, but inasmuch as Co. D did not get nearer to Montpelier than Essex Junction either going to or coming from muster, the St. Johnsbury boys easily can prove an alibi.

School of Music.

The fall term of the St. Johnsbury School of Music opens Monday, September 1. Mr. Harris returns to St. Johnsbury next week and will resume teaching at the beginning of the term. Miss Myrtle Quimby has been engaged as assistant teacher of piano. During the past three years Miss Quimby has been assistant teacher for Miss O'Kell of the National Conservatory of New York and has met with conspicuous success as a teacher and soloist and will bring enthusiasm and experience to her work in the school.

every man knows that increased comfort comes with increased knowledge. The savage does not wear a hat—civilized men find it better to do so. Just so with the

OP-C suspensory

If we lived like the Indian—a purely physical life—no cares—no responsibilities—we would have no need of an O-P-C suspensory. It is the struggle, the hurry, the unceasing hustle of modern life which makes it necessary for every man to have the health and strength—the staying qualities which enable him to withstand any tax upon his system. The O-P-C will help him as much as any one thing can. It is a modern invention for modern life.

Our stock of O-P-C suspensories is complete
